On Immigration

We have decided to start posting links to interesting articles we occasionally find, when they fall within our own line of thinking. They may be of interest to our visitors.

The one below, titled ‘Democrats Are Turning Immigration Into a Moral Ultimatum’ is by Zach Goldberg. It offers deeps insights into the Democratic way of thinking, by permitting illegal immigration into this country; immigration driven by our neighbors south of the border.

An author makes an excellent case of where Democrats are going with this, but misses one important point. Those ‘moral’ convictions Dems are being driven by are false and deceitful. They simply want to import the future voters, to eventually tip the power balance in their own favor. Poor and uneducated aliens are always in debt and waiting for the handouts the criminal Democratic Party would be all too eager to organize. One votes for the people who put bread on your table, no? We think the dependency is very obvious. But you draw your own conclusions.

Read it here:
https://www.tabletmag.com/sections/news/articles/democrats-immigration-moral-ultimatum